

Lone Fox - classic ketch

Lone Fox

65ft, ocean-racing ketch. Designed by Robert Clark and built in 1957 by Alexander Robertson & Sons, Sandbank, Scotland for Col. Whitbred, the original sponsor of the Whitbred Round the World Race.

She is constructed of Teak with an English Oak Interior and after a total refit concluding in 2002 she has been professionally maintained to original standards.

Lone Fox is a highly competitive racing boat and swept the board with trophies in the 2011 Classic Regatta including winning the overall PANERAI TROPHY.

Her private whole-boat regatta charter rate for the Antigua Classic Yacht Regatta is US$15,000 PLUS all expenses. This includes four racing days and one full practice day. No sleeping accommodation aboard during the regatta.
